TEMPLATE 01 · CREATOR WEBSITES

Website Blueprint for Mindset & Spirituality Creators

The seven sections a creator website needs to turn visitors into leads. Fill in every section before you think about design. A beautiful page without a clear message sells nothing.

1 · Hero: the promise in one sentence

For whom? (e.g. women who have lost themselves in everyday life)

Which result? (e.g. inner calm in 10 minutes a day)

Headline (max. 10 words)

Primary button (e.g. “Get the free meditation”)

2 · The pain: mirror your readers

- 3 sentences your audience recognizes themselves in, in their words, not yours.
- Example: “You function, but you no longer feel.”
- No diagnoses, no healing claims. Describe experience, not illness.

3 · Your story (short!)

Where were you before?

What changed?

Why do you help exactly these people today?

4 · The offer

- One main offer per page. Not five.
- What exactly do people get? (modules, calls, community, duration)
- Who is it explicitly NOT for?

5 · Proof

- Real voices with first name + context, only with consent.
- Screenshots from community or DMs (anonymized).
- No invented testimonials. They are legally risky and destroy trust.

6 · Lead magnet box

Name of the freebie (e.g. “7-day morning ritual”)

Format (audio, PDF, mini course)

Where does it lead next? (challenge, community, discovery call)

7 · Essentials & trust

- [ ] Legal notice and privacy policy linked
- [ ] Cookie banner only if tracking is used
- [ ] Mobile view checked (over 70% of visitors are on phones)
- [ ] Load time under 3 seconds
- [ ] One clear call-to-action above the fold

→ Rule of thumb: if you read your headline to your grandmother and she asks “So what exactly do you do?”, it is too abstract.
