Welcome Sequence: 5 Email Templates

The first five days after opt-in decide whether someone opens your emails or ignores them. This sequence delivers value first, then relationship, then invitation.

Email 1 · Immediately: delivery

Subject: Your [freebie name] is here 🌙
Here is your access: [link]. My tip: take 10 minutes tonight, phone off, headphones in. Feel free to reply: what brought you here? I read every answer.

Email 2 · Day 1: your story

Subject: Why I do this
Tell the moment something changed for you. One moment, not your résumé. End with a question.

Email 3 · Day 2: quick win

Subject: An exercise for tomorrow morning
One concrete 3-minute exercise. The simpler, the better. Goal: the reader experiences a small change through you.

Email 4 · Day 4: the most common mistake

Subject: This keeps most people stuck
One thinking error your audience makes, and what helps instead. This is where you position your method.

Email 5 · Day 6: invitation

Subject: If you want to go deeper
Invite to the next step: challenge, community or discovery call. One link, one offer, no menu.

Tech check

- [ ] Double opt-in active (GDPR)
- [ ] Sender = your name, not “Info”
- [ ] Unsubscribe link in every email
- [ ] Tags: who downloaded which freebie?

→ Write every email to one single person. “All of you” reads like a circular, “you” reads like a letter.
